Section 5. Labeling:

All cottage food products must be pre-packaged in the home kitchen. The food packaging must conform to the labeling requirements of the Illinois Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, and must contain the following phrase in prominent lettering: "This product was produced in a home kitchen not inspected by a health department that may also process common food allergens. If you have safety concerns, contact your local health department."

Special Labeling Opportunity for Local Ingredients

Are you using any ingredients grown or raised on an Illinois farm and purchased directly from the farmer? If so, you are entitled and encouraged to use the following terminology on your label: Illinois Grown, Illinois-Sourced, Illinois Farm Product

Request for a labeling exemption:

Cottage food operators may request an exemption from product packaging for foods that are not easily packaged (i.e. wedding cakes), for foods that are more suited to bulk containers or display cases (i.e. donuts or scones), or for other reasons. If the exemption is granted, the cottage food producer must include all labeling requirements on a receipt or similar document that is delivered to that consumer with the product, and the cottage food warning sign must still be present at point of sale. The local health department has the authority to accept or deny the exemption request.

Request for product packaging exemption

Please list the products for which you are requesting an exemption and provide a rationale:

A product label for each product category selected in Section 2, demonstrating that you are complying correctly with labeling regulations

If on a private water supply, a copy of water test results showing satisfactory E. coli/Coliform bacteria results

If producing acidified or fermented foods (pickles, kraut, kimchi, etc.), one of the following:

A. A completed food safety plan and representative pH test for each product with a different food safety process.

Example: Delia makes pickled cucumbers, pickled beets, kimchi, and hot sauces. Each of these four products requires a different process to make. She will need to submit a food safety plan and pH test for all four products.

Example: Janae makes a pickled cucumber recipe that has five different variations (one with dill, one with jalapenos, one with more sugar, one with stevia, and one with ginger). Although the recipes vary slightly, the pickling process is the same for all five recipes. Janae must submit just one food safety plan and a pH test for at least one pickle recipe as evidence that her process is safe. A pH test and food safety plan is not required for all five recipe variations.

B. An approved recipe from the USDA National Center for Home Food Preservation or the cooperative extension office of any state.

If producing canned tomatoes or canned tomato products (i.e. salsa, pasta sauce, etc.), one of the following:

A. pH test for each canned tomato recipe

Section 8. Owner Statement:

The information provided in this application accurately represents my operation; and I understand that I must grant the local health official access to my residence for the purpose of inspection in the event of an illness outbreak, upon notice from a different local health department, or if the Department or a local health department has reason to believe that an imminent health hazard exists or that a cottage food operation's product has been found to be misbranded, adulterated, or not in compliance with the conditions for cottage food operations.

I understand that if an inspection is warranted, I may be charged a reasonable fee by the local health department per incident. The local health department may invoke penalties and the cessation of the sale of cottage food products until it deems that the situation has been addressed to the satisfaction of the Department or local health department; if the situation is not amenable to being addressed, the local health department may revoke the cottage food operation's registration following a process outlined by the local health department.
